Yale Vertex™ Side Fix Travel Restrictors

PRODUCT INFORMATION

This travel restrictor does exactly what its name suggests and works by restricting how far the lower moving sash can travel on traditional vertical sliding sash windows. This not only serves to enhance security by limiting the window opening for would-be intruders, but also helps to improve safety for young and vulnerable people at risk of falling. The non-handed restrictor sits discretely within the sash, so as not to detract from stylish windows, and can be quickly engaged using a simple release pin.

- Discretely improves safety and security on vertical sliding sash windows
- Suited range of traditional & contemporary colour options
- Non-handed design to minimise stock holding
